

KILLER VIRUS

3

All Right, Come On -

The virus is a deadly one, turning his eyes a bleeding red, and causing him to tremble, as his head begins to ache Erupting as it cracks -- Reddish spots appear upon his skin's overrun, a rash of blisters quickly forms Ripping through his burning skin, streams of blood begin to spurt, uncontrollably flowing out of each and every hole Violently as the victim coughs, spewing forth a blackened vomit he sloughs off a portion of his deteriorating tongue losing crucial body parts, his organs fill with blood and fail, and suffering recurrent seizures, he wastes away and dies

The virus pushes on -- destroying his remaining cells crawling through the carcass as his tissue liquefies Attending doctors to the scene, ascertaining what is wrong, but no one really knows what they really got to do Everybody's worried now, listening to every word that's said, but never really focusing on themselves

Know yourself, listen to no one else, giving him something more to do Hold the line, watch for his surprise, He's drawing out of the Dead Man's Door
A warning to all the World that He will come

Spreading a Killer Virus -- throughout the Human Race People begin to Panic -- this massive disruption's causing chaos -
Cloning, He's for the Control -- begging and pleading for who's on the Cure Doesn't anyone want to reassure them -- He can only calm their fears, and "make it all right" --

All right —

Running around not knowing what to do —

Searching for a saviour to provide safe passage through —

The Future Fuehrer will soon begin his Reign —

Spreading like a wildfire, ravaging it's worldwide, this debilitating disease, will it ever be controlled Fuehrer on the scene -- giving out his formula Leading all the people through this maze of "hopeful flight" Fuehrer makes the rules for all, warning everyone around, and ordering all his armies as their marching all the way Trusting what the leader says, knowing where the power comes,
Is this leader evil or does He want to help them out?

Unseen invaders attack, every part of the body, Rapidly raiding its cells -- Crippling -- the immune system Methods of curbing the scourge, have all but been exhausted, Screaming in horror they cry -- Save Us -- from this worldwide disease

Blow -- Blow them all away -- Blow them to the sky -- Flaming Ashes through the Nation
He -- Surely one more time -- Take another Stab -- Understanding that he's Brutal Crying -- Crying for his mom -- Crying cause he's scared -- Knowing that he won't make it Falling -- Falling through the cracks -- Falling as he cries -- Crying for his reclamation
